Registered Environmental Health Specialist Opportunity

The Perry County Health Department has an exciting opportunity for a full-time Registered Environmental Health Specialist (REHS) or Registered Environmental Health Specialist in Training (REHS-IT).

The REHS is responsible for assisting in the performance of inspections, routine testing and sampling duties in Environmental Health programs which may include but not be limited to: food service operations and retail food establishments, mobile home parks, campgrounds, swimming pools and spas, body art establishments, private sewage treatment systems, private water/wells, water samples, solid waste disposal, construction and demolition debris landfills, refuse hauling and/or septage hauling vehicles, water hauling vehicles, vector control and rabies control. Investigates foodborne or other illnesses and public health nuisances. Performs routine tests according to established health district policy and procedures to enforce state and local laws, and rules and regulations. Prepares field and inspection reports, makes recommendations for remedial action to correct deficiencies, and follows up to ensure corrections are implemented according to current laws and regulations.

Minimum Qualifications:

Bachelor's degree in Environmental Health or related science degree with minimum 45 quarter or 30 semester hours of science required. Must be a Registered Environmental Health Specialist or Environmental Health Specialist-In-Training (or eligible to become an REHS-IT) with valid driver's license.

The Perry County Health Department is committed to creating a diverse environment and is proud to be an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, gender, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, national origin, genetics, disability, age, or veteran status.

The pay is $21.63 per hour for an existing REHS, and $19.44 for an REHS in training. Both positions are eligible for full medical insurance benefits. The Perry County Health Department participates in the Ohio Public Employees Retirement System.

Applicants that desire to provide ethical, innovative, and accountable services to the residents of Perry County should send a resume, cover letter, and application by April 1, 2022. The application can be found at: <http://perrycountyhealth.info/job-opportunities/>.
